

Green & Purple Tentacle

Design by Gerwin Sturm (2008/04/06)

Many people will remember those two characters from the old LucasArts adventure games "Maniac Mansion" and "Day of the Tentacle".

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Maniac_Mansion
<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/DOTT>

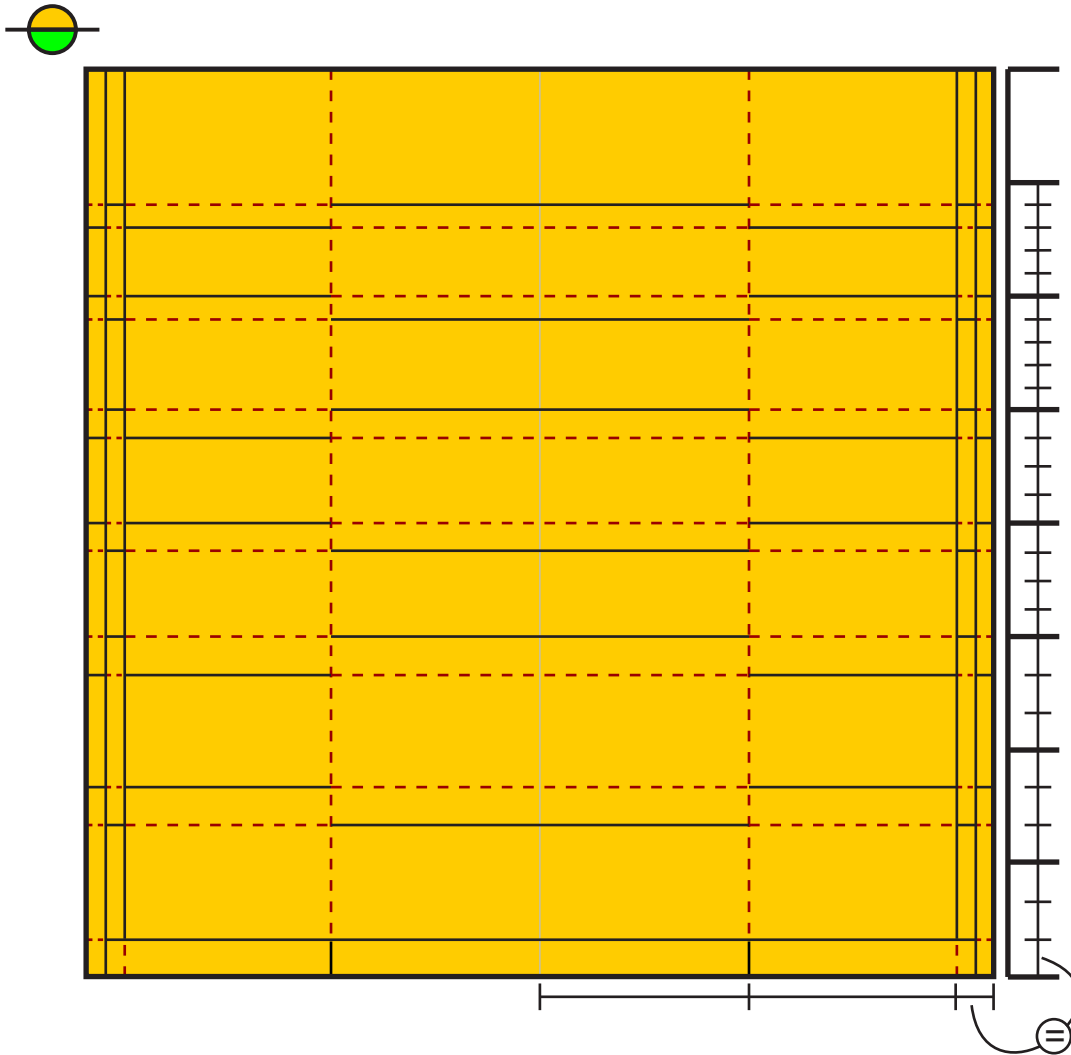

If you don't know those games yet, try to get them.
They're among the best games of their kind :-)

Tissue foil works quite well for these models, especially since you can make it in the correct colours.

To get the models the correct size, the paper for Purple Tentacle has to be 50% larger than the paper for Green Tentacle. So if you use a 20cm square for Green Tentacle, you will need a 30cm square for Purple Tentacle.

Green Tentacle 1.1

Precreasing notes:

You don't have to be overly exact.

Use the 8ths as reference and estimate the 3rds and the 5ths from there.

The Mountain-Valley distribution doesn't really matter for the precreasing either. Just precrease the folds in both directions.

Purple Tentacle 1.1

